

UKG – FINGER PRINTING ACTIVITY

Finger painting is important to every child's development. It helps the body and brain integrate information as well as being a relaxing creative way to express feelings. It is good for sensory integration and improve fine motor development, strength fingers and hand muscles. It stimulates creativity and imagination.

If the finger painting is done on the floor, kids use balance, large muscles control and spatial awareness.

Develops communication and language skills when done as a group activity.
